

Interior Space Design

This project aims at designing the plans of an internal organization for the base that would offer decent living conditions.

Laboratory: TBD

Number of students: 1 (Master)

Section: AR

Status: Available (Spring 2021)

Description of the project

An important aspect to establishing permanent settlements on celestial bodies will be the time spent within the base by the astronauts. Therefore, it will be essential for the base to offer decent living conditions, i.e. allowing a small group of people to work and live together in a small space for an extended period of time, without impairing their mental health.
